Committee Probes Charge Yanks Fight With Bad Weapons

Related story on Page 15
WASHINGTON, May 13, 1964—
The house armed services committee is looking into charges that Americans are fighting in South Viet Nam with obsolete weapons and other equipment. The committee, headed by Rep. Carl Vinson, D.-Ga., has asked the Pentagon for a full explanation of recent incidents allegedly involving equipment failure, too. Two members of the committee, Rep. Ed Foy, R.-Tex., and Charles E. Chamberlain, R.-Mich., have formally demanded an inquiry if the facts warrant. Informed sources said Tuesday that Vinson has indicated the committee will dig further into the charge when Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara returns from his current inspection trip to South Viet Nam. Meanwhile, in related developments:

Sen. John Tower, R.-Tex., citing "reports of American lives being lost . . . because of inadequate and obsolescent equipment," offered the Senate a resolution calling for modernization of the Viet Nam war effort.

Scripps Howard writer Jim Lucas reported from Viet Nam Monday that two American pilots, Capt. Edwin G. Shank, Jr., of White Plains, Ind., and Capt. Robert M. Brummet of Bethesda, Md., died because the wings came off their planes during combat sorties.

Lucas said that the two men died "because they were ordered to fly planes that might better have been consigned to the scrap heap." The plane involved in both cases was the T-28, which has long been used in Viet Nam. Referring to this report Tuesday, Rep. Steven B. Derounian, R.-N.Y., said: "Secretary McNamara is making another one of his trips to Viet Nam; which will be followed by more press conferences, but he won't report the facts about the outmoded type of aircraft for jungle warfare. He has attributed both of their deaths to 'hostile action.' Shank so far is Captain Shank and crashed after making three passes. Brummet is concerned, the air force on a target on March 24. Brummet was also crashed while making a pass at a target on April 9. In both cases, hostile ground fire was evident, and while the Pentagon knows that the wings of Shank's plane came off, it does not know why.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

BY ANDREW FULLY

WASHINGTON, May 13.—This is a town where government press agents are wont periodically to complain that the people are permitted to know too much about their country's business, and I'm sorry to note that Bob Manning is joining the chorus. Manning, a former newspaperman and a commonsense type, is assistant-secretary of state for public affairs, or chief flack for Secretary Dean Rusk. He made a speech in Boston the other day saying unlimited freedom of the press as practiced here often compromised the nation's defense and foreign policy. Manning, I am afraid, has been too long in thrall to bureaucracy; he has succumbed to the temptation to "peddle" genteel hogwash.

Like too many of his colleagues in government, Manning has challenged the people's "right to know" in certain instances involving top policy. He claimed the press "wants to know a great deal more than do the people in whose name it acts."

KNOWS BETTER—This is arrogant and dangerous nonsense. First, no responsible reporter ever prints any information which could damage his country's security. And second, the real secret stuff is as securely locked up no noisy hawhaw can lay his hands on it. In his role, Manning knows that better than most.

But unfortunately, Manning is echoing those who believe that information about the people's government belongs not to the people but to a gaggle of elected and appointed officials, who may do it out at their convenience or whim. Perhaps, unwittingly, his speech is part and parcel of a movement as old as man, which has ways sought to conceal the operation and business of government from the citizenry government and congressional leaders try to force action.

"This whole procedure is disgusting," declared Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D. Minn., who happens to be floor manager for the civil rights bill. "It isn't the South that's delaying the civil rights bill. It's the 81 senators who do not live in the South."

"When the senate becomes sufficiently disgusted with itself and these methods, we'll start to vote," Senator Humphrey said.

He could be right, but if past performances are any guide, it'll take a long time for the senate to reach that point.

The senate has means of limiting debate to force any issue to a vote, or, in plainer language, end a filibuster. Archaic rules and unworkable majority requirements tend to take much of the decisiveness out of the procedure. Rules should have been changed long ago to prevent a single senator or group of senators from controlling the senate through filibuster.

The simple truth is that senators themselves don't want to change the rules. Filibuster is an effective weapon that can be used in a last-ditch effort. If the present session reaches the point where the senate gets "sufficiently disgusted with itself" it should go right ahead and change the rules to prevent any future repetition of a procedure that disgusted large segments of the public many years ago. Unfortunately, the senate's disgust for itself always falls far short of the degree of disgust felt by the public.

There will be civil rights action, merely because of the threat of overtime sessions and continuing meetings for congress so long as no action is forthcoming.

The threat is sufficient. Roughly one-third of the senate and every member of the house of representatives are up for reelection this year. Here's an opportunity that is near and dear to the hearts of senators and representatives. The senate might dilly-dally along for a few more weeks, but action and adjournment are assured. After all, members of congress who love their jobs have to rush back to the sticks to tell their voters what a wonderful job they're doing in Washington.

BREDDGE LAW TEST? An attorney general's opinion may determine whether the Idaho dredge law undergoes an acid test in East Idaho.

A U.S. forest ranger has charged the operator of a gold dredge on McCoy creek southeast of Idaho Falls with failure to restore the dredged land after his operation as specified in the Idaho dredge law.

The operator never did obtain a state permit to operate the dredge, contending that his dredge was not of sufficient capacity to qualify for a permit. However, a U.S. forest service engineer examined the outfit and determined that it was of sufficient capacity to warrant a state permit.

While the state land board wrote the operator a letter asking him to cease pending a determination of the dredge capacity, he never did stop and the land board never did follow up with any enforcement. The board allowed him to operate despite assurances from the Idaho fish and game department and the forest service that he was in violation.

An Idaho Falls justice of the peace court dismissed the complaint on a motion by the defense that the statute of limitations applied. In other words, the dredging occurred between July 1961 and July 30, 1962, and the complaint filed in March of this year came too late, according to the justice court ruling.

Those who want to look for reasons can find several explanations for falling short of the bloodmobile quota this week in Twin Falls. It's natural to try to explain such failures, particularly after the city has chalked up several successes in a row. Some factors could be the shift in location, uncommonly nice weather after a rather long string of dismal days, farmers lagging far behind schedule for their spring work, colds and other illnesses that could have eliminated a lot of potential donors.

Any of these factors could explain why Twin Falls failed to meet its quota. Or perhaps none of them had a bearing on what happened.

It all boils down to one point: The maximum effort possible must be exerted each and every time the bloodmobile is scheduled. Nothing can be taken for granted and there is no panacea that will assure reaching the quota for any particular visit.

The appointment system has worked exceptionally well for Twin Falls, far better than was anticipated when the idea was first broached. But the appointment system in itself is not the complete answer.

The most important factor is the state of mind of potential donors. Twin Falls has far too few steady, dependable donors, persons who donate blood as a matter of practice and habit. These are the persons who always show up when the bloodmobile visits the city. They don't look for reasons to stay away. Instead, they overcome minor inconvenience and make definite plans to donate blood, regardless of what else happens.

Even adequate numbers of such donors cannot guarantee the city will always meet its obligation to the bloodmobile. The reservoir of such donors has to be replenished constantly. There can be no letup anywhere along the line.

TAYLOR'S VIEWS ON WORLD NEWS

By HENRY TAYLOR

This writer wrote a current note, "The Big Man," which is about eager buyers bitten by the presidential bug, but it would take Hans Christian Andersen to deal with Harold Stassen. Moreover, there's a touch of split in Stassen's attitude which has never been revealed.

Currently this is Stassen's sixth pitch for the presidency or vice pres.—nearly a tendency with hardly more delegate support than Smokey the Bear. There isn't one in the Union. In fact, can his managers name a single county?

Yet when New Hampshire gave Mr. Nixon more than one-half of the primary vote, after shooting down all over the state, the diehard didn't dismay Stassen. He promptly created a ridiculous delay through the California courts to get himself on the California ticket. Meanwhile, his Indiana primary votes are utterly meaningless in the convention. Those ballots might as well have been cast for the maharajah of Jaipur.

Nevertheless, off Stassen will go to the San Francisco wishing well with the politician's bolt-tentacles buckled or self-deception.

When I first encountered Stassen, a 33-year-old governor of strong, intelligent and broad promise. He'd done a fine job in Minnesota and burst into the big league as a Wendell Willkie supporter in the high-speed 1940 campaign. Stassen, now 57, has spent the rest of his life running for something (including mayor of Philadelphia), although he hasn't been elected to anything for a solid 21 years.

Stassen was never really in line for the White House—merely a personal illusion. But the true crisis in his political life came when President Eisenhower died.

Stassen's consuming ambition was to be secretary of state. Unit Gov. Thomas E. Dewey sponsored and urged the President's appointment of John Foster Dulles, and Stassen simply didn't fit in that league.

When supreme court Justice Fred M. Vinson died (President Eisenhower had no closer Washington friend) Mr. Eisenhower considered appointing Secretary Dulles to the high court. Mr.

One guess is that Kennedy felt supremely confident about handling anyone the Republicans sent against him. If only for lack of experience, Johnson couldn't be sure he'd make out as well.

Through the fresh insights they'd yet into Johnson and his opposition arguing the issues in 1964, voters would be able to reach more intelligent decisions against both of them.

Mr. Johnson, like Kennedy, is a politician with a race to win and the main problem of how that would be the primary consideration for both. That's a practical reason for Johnson wanting to wait till he sees what he's up against.

By campaign time, Johnson may decide, danger or not, the debates are necessary.

For instance:

To restore public acceptance through serious discussion if by then he has made some gains in the presidency or suffered setbacks by too much running around and too much talking off the cuff.

Besides, he is thin-skinned. If he says he won't do, the Republicans no doubt would try to needle him into changing his mind by attacking his reluctance to face his opponent.

There's a good reason now to think he might welcome the debates. He seemed a little uncertain of himself, starting out, but he seems to be developing—no much confidence in his voter appeal than he now unpredictable from hour to hour.

POT SHOTS

By JAMES MARLOW (Associated Press News Analyst)

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)— Shortly before his death President John F. Kennedy said he would take up on his Republican opponent in the 1964 presidential race in television-radio debates. So far President Johnson has declined to say what he will do.

It would have been easy for Kennedy, an old hand at politics, to say he wanted to be equated in the public mind with the vice president.

As President, by debating a Republican contender, Kennedy would have been giving his opponent the same kind of exposure he himself got in his seat with Nixon. Why do it, then?

One guess is that Kennedy felt supremely confident about handling anyone the Republicans sent against him.

Johnson, with no experience in this kind of national encounter, gave this answer when asked about the debates at his Dec. 11 news conference.

"I will make those decisions at the time I am the nominee and in the light of the circumstances existing then. For the present, I am not going to discuss that," he said.

He didn't stick to that, however. He has made some cracks about Republicans and practically everything he has done since has been a political matter in the sense of building up his own appeal.

He's been so homespun and down-to-earth and folksy and reassuring to so many people in so many fields of interest that he has created a picture of himself as a sort of national big daddy.

The public opinion polls indicate the people are eating up his ideas. He doesn't care if his Republican candidate could possibly match him in public exposure since he's President and everything he does is news.

That raises the first question: Why, with this advantage, should he let an opponent, in one leap before the cameras and with one turn of the dial, enjoy the same spotlight with and perhaps do him damage by outdoing him?

Mothers Are Honored at Stake Confab

WENDELL, May 13—General welfare were discussed at the quarterly conference of Gooding-LDS Stake Saturday and Sunday at the Jerome stakehouse. Mothers were honored with special tributes.

Sister Dean Belnap, of the genealogical committee, Salt Lake City, stressed the urgency of the genealogical work based on the principle of exaltation and eternal life.

Just as the story of God is to pass the immortality and eternal life of man, so it is the story of mothers and father to pass the immorality and eternal life of their children he said.

He urged that the law of honoring father and mother in this day in its full intend and purpose be extended to past generations of fathers and mothers through the work of genealogy until the family of Israel is linked together.

He supported the 80th section of the doctrine and covenants by mentioning the report to the President submitted by the pediatrics association assembled at Philadelphia showed there are more congenital abnormalities in children whose mothers used tobacco and that the incidence of premature birth and the mortality rate of such children is tripled.

Sister A. Lewis Eggen of the church welfare organization, Salt Lake City, urged the congregations to give more importance to their spiritual needs and less emphasis on the material or temporal aspect of life.

He explained principles that support the church's great welfare program and admonished his listeners to keep out of private debt, away from interest payments, not to speculate to use wisely, to avoid waste and extravagance and to get all the education possible. He suggested the ten commandments of "Use it up, make it do, do without."

President Ross C. Lee, who conducted the conference, also spoke and called up three mothers to speak extemporaneously. They were Mrs. Dale Standish, Jerome, representing the clerical staff of mothers in the stake; Mr. John F. Dixon, Jerome, mother who do so much research in support of genealogy, and Mrs. Muriel Lancaster, Wendell, from the group of mothers who care more for their children somewhat alone and support her husband who are in important leadership positions in the church.

Four missionaries spoke briefly, including Frances Head, Jerome, who recently returned from France; Elder Lloyd Brown, Hailey, returning from the Indian mission in Nevada and Mexico.

Elder Gary Purves of Texas and Randall Knott, Salt Lake City, both of the northwestern states mission, assigned to Gooding state, also spoke. President Mr. Thomas Newman and president Gail Hendrickson were the concluding speakers.

Four anthems were sung by the Jerome first ward, directed by Mrs. Everett Brown. Margaret Van Orman played the prelude and postlude and accompanied congregational singing which was directed by Mrs. Everett Cox, Wendell.

Prizes were offered by George Briggs and Leslie Juchau, Jerome, and Hazelton group leaders in the high priest quorums, and by Bishop Evan Willard, and Bishop W. M. Drake, Jerome.

Singer Forgets Lyrics, but Still Garners Award

NEW YORK, May 13 (AP)—Jack Jones forgot the words to a song at the "Grammy" awards ceremony Tuesday night—and a few minutes later won a "Grammy" for the best male vocal performance.

Tony Bennett, who won the best-voiced award last year, ran to the stage, took Jones' microphone and finished the song for him.

The song was "The Good Life," one of five nominated for song of the year. The awards were given by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences.

"The Days of Wine and Roses" garnered three awards for Henry Mancini—record of the year, best background arrangement, and song of the year.

Barbra Streisand was named best female vocalist and her album, "The Barbra Streisand Album," was named best of the year.

Smylie Takes Issue With Board Demos

BOISE, May 13 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie took issue Tuesday with action by Democratic members of the state land board in rescinding hiring policy approved in 1960.

The board, with only the three Democratic members present, voted last week to rescind the earlier policy which required board approval of all employees of the state land department and its agencies.

The meeting at which the action was taken was called primarily to discuss the proposal of an agreement with the federal government covering exchange of land at the Dworshak damsite on the North fork of the Clearwater river in north Idaho.

Smylie signed that agreement in advance of the meeting, but left Boise for a week-end fishing trip on the Snake river prior to the session. He said today he knew of the meeting only the day before it was scheduled and was unable to change his weekend plans.

Action by the board puts employees of the land department under the same regulations governing most state agencies. Appointments first are made by the head of the agency, then are submitted to State Budget Director Don I. Walker for approval.

It was Walker's refusal to approve appointment of a secretary for State Parks Director Jon Soderblom that prompted the board's reversal of the earlier policy. Walker sent the appointment back to State Land Commissioner O. J. Buxton with a notation that it had not been approved by the board.

State Auditor Joe R. Williams made the motion to rescind the earlier policy and the two other Democratic members, Secretary of State Arnold Williams, and D. F. Englekirk, state superintendent of public instruction, voted for it.

Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard, like Smylie a Republican, also was out of town.

Ancient Fort Won by Biblical King Is Found

JERUSALEM, May 13 (AP)—An Edomite fort on the western shore of the Dead sea that was conquered by King David's warriors nearly 3,000 years ago has been unearthed by an American-backed archaeological expedition.

Dr. Yohanan Aharoni led the expedition, sponsored by the American Institute of Holy Land Studies and the Israeli government's antiquities department.

Tony Bennett, who won the best-voiced award last year, ran to the stage, took Jones' microphone and finished the song for him.

The song was "The Good Life," one of five nominated for song of the year. The awards were given by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences.

Two Heyburn Youths Hurt In Accident

HEYBURN, May 13—Two Heyburn youths were treated and released Monday night at Cassia Memorial Hospital for injuries received in a motor-scooter collision at 7:30 p.m. Monday at 8th street and 12th street, Heyburn.

Driver of the All State motor scooter was Sidney K. Olson, 15, Heyburn; Bruce Parks, son of Mrs. Haskell Parks, was a passenger.

The southbound scooter was struck by a 1961 Mercury driven by Walter Amen, 40, Heyburn, who was cited for driving with an expired driver's license. Olson was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Both boys were thrown from the scooter. They were taken by ambulance to the hospital. Olson had a leg injury and multiple abrasions. Parks received a slight head injury with contusions and abrasions.

Damages to the car was estimated at $100 and the scooter was demolished.

Comfort Sound Hearing Instrument Developed

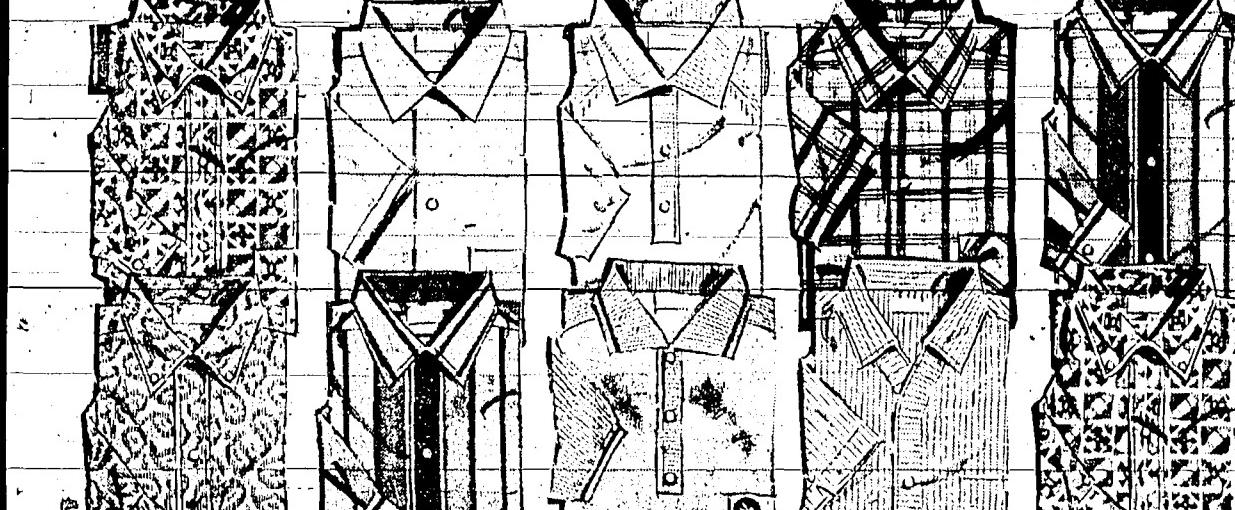

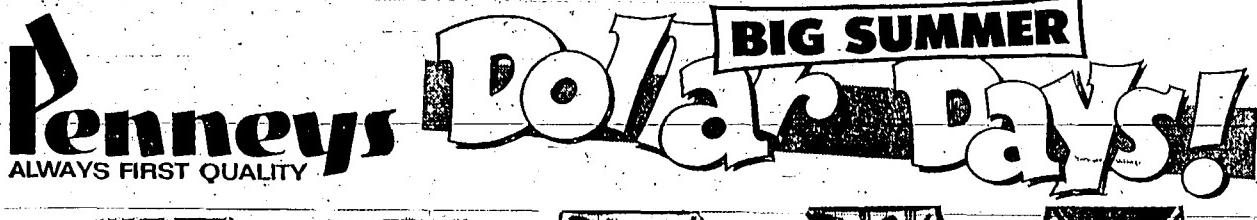

A new hearing instrument just introduced by World Famous Telex Laboratories brings a totally new comfort to those who need hearing help. It is especially for those who have used a hearing aid, or those who could not become accustomed to the loud background noise of ordinary hearing aids.

New super tiny electronic circuitry eliminates most unwanted noise to allow you to hear clearly as nature intended. Speech and music are clear as a bell when you wear this new aid. Hard loud noises that can cause such discomfort with ordinary hearing aids are automatically softened with TELEX COMFORT SOUND CONTROL.

Has Breakfast

HAGERMAN, May 13—Members of Fydelia club held a breakfast at the Reorganized LDS church.

Each member brought a guest. Mrs. Howard Carlson was in charge of table decorations. Mrs. William Handrickson gave the invocation. The program topic was "Friends." Mrs. George Lemmon read the scripture and Mrs. Edna Harmon gave the response. Mrs. Carlson talked on the value of friends. Mrs. Dana Gilmore and Mrs. Nettie Lewis were read from E. E. Cummings, sovereign grand master of the department council branch militant, and Lella Lee, president of the department association LAPM. It was reported that 44 hospital home calls have been made; 41 cards have been sent to all bereaved members. Donations were made to the American Cancer Fund. The need to make a donation to the American Legion Fund, the opening and closing gavel were given by Mrs. A. Carlson.

Recalling the 100th anniversary of Old Fellowship in Idaho, the new chairman, Mrs. H. A. Biswell, program chaperone, said the city was where the first lodges in Idaho was founded.

Refreshments were served by children and Mrs. Biswell.

The next regular meeting will be June 11 in the Twin Falls Yukon Hall.

Stock Market and Financial Report

Stocks

NEW YORK. May 13 Up—The stock market closed irregularly today. Trading was active.

Profit taking took over the latest market rise and some of the recent speculative favorites were clipped.

Calumet and Hecla had about 2 points short from its 10-point rise of Tuesday. Texas Gulf Sulphur also sank about 2.

International Nickel advanced about 2 and minerals and chemicals gained a point.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.7 million shares compared with 5.24 million Tuesday.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were from fractions to around a point.

An exception was Uni-Pont, down more than 3. Liggett and Myers sank more than 2 as the cigarette stocks sold off on news that sales of cigarettes had resumed their downward trend of earlier this year.

Calumet and Hecla was up at the start under a pile-up of demand, then showed a fractional loss. Calumet again ran ahead of the pack on volume. Second was Texas Gulf Sulphur, also down a fraction.

Gains of around 3 each were scored by Control Data and U.S. Smelting. Ahead about a point were Silver Industries and Eastman Kodak.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds advanced. U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

3 Posts Will Be Elected For Valley

EDEN-HAZELTON, May 13.—Patrons of Valley school district No. 262 will elect three trustees May 19 with two men seeking one post and no petitions of candidacy filed for zone one.

Vying for the post in zone two to fill the unexpired term of Clyde Montgomery are Austin Montague and Elizabeth Hardy. Montgomery resigned last month.

Harold Grant is the only candidate to file for trustee-zone three. The term is for three years. Ralph McClain, incumbent, did not seek reelection.

No petitions have been filed in zone one, according to Dan Rogerson, chairman of the board, and incumbent in this zone.

Polls will be open from 1 to 7 p.m. Tuesday at Valley high school.

Qualified electors are eligible to vote in this election if they reside in one of the three zones for which a trusteeship is vacant but they must be taxpayers within the zone or the husband or wife of a taxpayer or they must be parents or guardians of a child or children under 21 years of age.

Persons voting in this trustee election may vote only for the trustee in whose zone they reside.

Voters residing in zone one where no candidate has filed may write-in a candidate of their choice, Rogerson said.

Trial Starts

In Murder of Wife by Fire

VALO, Ore., May 13 (UPI)—A truck driver testified at the trial of Keith Keith Harris' murder trial Tuesday he saw the car in which Harris' wife, Vera, burned to death undamaged and intact hours after Harris claimed it was wrecked.

Gratton W. Keel, 55, an Oregon state highway truck driver now living at McMinnville, said he was running a sanding truck and knew plow until 7:30 a.m. last Dec. 17 in the Burns Junction area.

Harris is accused of first-degree murder in the flaming death of his 37-year-old wife. Mrs. Harris' body was found in the burned out wreckage of a Lincoln at the foot of an embankment near the junction Dec. 17.

The defendant has conceded the accident occurred about 9:30 the night of Dec. 16. The state alleges he stalked the accident to collect $10,000 in life insurance on his wife in order to bail himself out of debt.

Another prosecution witness, Thurman Hines, identified by deposition that he was traveling from Spokane to Phoenix with a load of apples with his relief driver, Jack McClusky, Spokane, about 6:10 a.m. on Dec. 17 and that as he approached the hill he saw flames shooting out to five feet in the air and saw a man standing at the roadside.

The defendant said he drove car down the embankment, all-butted in flames which seemed to be around it. Harris, he said, seemed to be in a state of shock. He said the defendant stumbled against his fender and had to be helped in.

Herbert Jordan Honored at Rites

JEROME, May 13—Funeral services for Herbert H. (Blackie) Jordan, Hazelton, were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Hove Funeral Chapel, by Bishop Jimmy Christopherson.

Invocation was given by Paul Juchau. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jordan and two selected acolytes were present. Mrs. Thomas Gough, Bishop Christopherson was the speaker and also read the obituary. The benediction was given by Ellsworth Hardy. Pallbearers were Dwight Brooks, Roy Brooks, Bill Rogers, Roy Brown, Oscar Bowlin and Clarence Bowlin.

The grave was dedicated by Ellsworth Hardy at the Jerome cemetery.

BOISE, May 13 (UPI)—Third district Judge J. Hay Durtach has continued until June 1 the case of a Boise teenager who pleaded guilty to robbing an elderly woman at her home here April 6.

The guilty plea was entered Monday by Randall Miles Goodall, 17, one of three youths charged with robbing Mrs. Elmer E. Ridder of $41 at gunpoint. The crime was committed April 14 in Wells when they were questioned by a Nevada law officer.

A 16-year-old suspect in the case was sent to the State Youth Training center at St. Anthony. A 15-year-old was committed to the state youth rehabilitation act.

Two gifts have been sent to senior graduates who belong to the Grange, she said.

Mrs. Vivian Jackson served refreshments.

Las Vegas Game House Loses License

CARSON CITY, May 13 (UPI)—The gambling license of the Silver Slipper casino on the Las Vegas strip, already padlocked by federal tax men, were revoked by the Nevada gaming commission Tuesday on cheating charges.

The commission lifted the permit after upholding the charges brought by the state gaming control board, which contended its agents found five crooked dice on a craps table at the frontier-style club March 27.

The Silver Slipper, including its hotel and restaurant facilities, was closed by internal revenue agents Friday for failing to pay $70,000 in federal employment and cabaret taxes which were due April 30.

The operation has been estimated by its major owner to be worth 4.7 million dollars. A state gaming board spokesman said it's believed to be the largest Nevada club to have its licenses revoked on cheating charges.

The defendant has conceded the accident occurred about 9:30 the night of Dec. 16. The state alleges he stalked the accident to collect $10,000 in life insurance on his wife in order to bail himself out of debt.

Another prosecution witness, Thurman Hines, identified by deposition that he was traveling from Spokane to Phoenix with a load of apples with his relief driver, Jack McClusky, Spokane, about 6:10 a.m. on Dec. 17 and that as he approached the hill he saw flames shooting out to five feet in the air and saw a man standing at the roadside.

The defendant said he drove car down the embankment, all-butted in flames which seemed to be around it. Harris, he said, seemed to be in a state of shock. He said the defendant stumbled against his fender and had to be helped in.

Gratton W. Keel, 55, an Oregon state highway truck driver now living at McMinnville, said he was running a sanding truck and knew plow until 7:30 a.m. last Dec. 17 in the Burns Junction area.

Harris is accused of first-degree murder in the flaming death of his 37-year-old wife. Mrs. Harris' body was found in the burned out wreckage of a Lincoln at the foot of an embankment near the junction Dec. 17.

Cheddi Jagan Apaan Jhat' loses Magic

GUYANA, British Guiana, May 13 (UPI)—In the old days, "Apaan Jhat" was a sort of political open season for Cheddi Jagan. A phrase roughly meaning "kick your face," it was the cry of dandy handsomeness that could be used—and would be used—by Indian Guyana's East Indian leaders on their way to the top of the colony's political heap. Today that was in 1943. Today's "Apaan Jhat" doesn't seem to be getting any longer to the magic of "Apaan Jhat."

Two years ago, when Jagan organized sugar workers to a strike, the response was total. The call to another strike last Friday, however, drew results seriously estimated at less than one percent effective.

The partial effectiveness of the walkout is regarded as solid evidence that the controversial prime minister has lost a low point of popularity in his long political career. It is also being taken as an early sign of a probable shift in emphasis away from racial issues as a factor in local politics.

Then, as now, the sugar strike was purely political; the grimmer objective this time is Jagan's political survival. His leadership is threatened by new formula that will determine legislative representation in direct proportion to votes cast in the forthcoming November elections.

Although His People's Progressive party was only 42.7 per cent of the 1941 election votes, it

Staff Aides Reported at University

MOSCOW, May 13 (UPI)—Student communications leaders at University of Idaho for the 1964-65 academic year have been announced by the Associated Students executive board.

The three top men for the Argonaut student newspaper will be Frederick Freeman, McCall, editor for the first semester; Mark Brown, Blackfoot, editor for the second semester, and James Faucher, Boise, managing editor.

Gen. of the Mountains, the school yearbook, will again have co-editors. They will be Karl Urban, Kimberly, and Anne Yenning, Southworth.

Carl Johnson, Emmett, was named public relations director for the Associated Students, and Carl Benjamin Goddard, Payette, manager of student radio station KUOY.

FORMER U.S. ATTORNEY DIES
NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 13 (UPI)—Arthur H. O'Keefe, 81, an assistant U.S. attorney general under President Woodrow Wilson, died Tuesday. He was appointed by Wilson in 1916 after he had lost a bid for election to Congress and served until 1921.

The more affluent Indian classes have been estranged from Jagan within the party's policy-making body. It is said to be caused by a triumvirate consisting of Jagan's wife Janet; Brindley Benn, a diminutive firebrand who was also deputy prime minister; and Moses Bhagwan, leader of the youth wing.

Death Probe To Hear FBI, CIA Chiefs

WASHINGTON, May 13 (UPI)—The chiefs of the FBI and central intelligence agency testify Thursday before the Warren commission investigating John F. Kennedy's assassination.

The commission announced that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover will be heard in the morning, followed by CIA Director John A. McCone.

Presumably both will be asked, among other things, about their organizations' investigations here and abroad after the president was shot in Dallas Nov. 22 and Lee Harvey Oswald, who once embraced Marxism and tried life in the Soviet Union for a while, was accused of being the sniper.

Today the commission hears from two officers of the Dallas police department's criminal intelligence division—Lieut. Jack Reale, the division's superintendent, and detective V. J. Brink.

Minidoka Demos To Pick Delegate

RUPERT, May 13—Mrs. Phillip Bare, Democratic central committee chairman, reports delegates for the state Democratic convention will be selected at 8 p.m. Friday at the courthouse.

Mrs. Bare said "No proxies can be voted in and in order that Minidoka county may participate fully, it will be necessary we have all six delegates at the assembly." The county central committee also will be able to nominate candidates on the county Democratic ticket at the Friday meeting.

Mrs. Bare urged all members in the county to attend the meeting.

The state Democratic convention will be held in Boise on May 12 and 13.

First Weeks of Big Fair Discouraging

NEW YORK, May 13 (UPI)—The first three weeks of the 1964-65 New York State Fair have been disappointing to fair officials and exhibitors because of poor attendance. A variety of difficulties ranging from bad weather to public resistance to admission admissions costs are to blame.

However, a spokesman for fair officials, Robert Moses said attendance figures are not considered disappointing yet. Monday's attendance was 184,000, up 11% above last week's average of 147,000. Daily fair attendance will be approximately 250,000 daily if projections hold true. Total attendance two years ago was estimated at 2 million visitors in total.

Business is particularly good according to concessionaires. Monday night at the fair grounds were very small crowds in the lake amusement area. Concession manager Mike Todd, Jr., said in the tower for lack of space at his "America, Be Great" mineral show. Only a few people were riding in the expensive monorail train which is suspended above this area. Restaurants were empty. The beautiful 125 million dollar production of "Broadway Love" is playing to about 90 percent of capacity in its big theater at the Texas pavilion, while "Wonder World" and "Les Demoiselles de Paris" are drawing large crowds.

Relatives of Americans Killed in Viet Nam Urge U.S. 'Battle to Win'

WASHINGTON, May 13 (UPI)—A group of relatives of Americans killed in South Viet Nam published an open letter to President Johnson Tuesday asking that the war be carried on North Viet Nam and that the United States fight a "battle to win" against communism.

The open letter appeared in the form of a full-page advertisement in Tuesday's edition of the Washington Star.

It contained the names of 127 Americans killed in Viet Nam from January 1961 through March, 1964, and 100 names of relatives of the men. The 100 names were from 42 separate families.

A statement in the advertisement said that "the funds for this advertisement have been provided by a group of Americans in memory of the gallant young Americans who gave their lives in Viet Nam against the communist enemy and in the prayerful hope that their lives not be given in vain."

The advertisement asked five questions of President Johnson:

"—Why are the young Americans who are fighting communism? Aggression in Viet Nam—shoulder to shoulder with free Vietnamese soldiers—forced to withstand the onslaught of the communist enemy without having the opportunity to attack the enemy's own territory in the north?"

"—Why must young Americans give their lives in the jungles and rice fields in Viet Nam in the fight against a communist enemy when the government of the United States authorizes trade with communist countries—trade which is utilized to strengthen communist power in Viet Nam and throughout the world?"

"—Why must our young men die in far-off Viet Nam, fighting the enemy, when their government authorizes 'cultural' exchanges with the communist world—the exchanges of ballet dancers to entertain communist leaders in Moscow while a young American does the dance of death in Viet Nam?"

"—Why must we repeat the tragic error of Korea—where 54,346 Americans gave up their lives in a war that we had no part in?"

We drove 3,243 miles to make a point about our Super Turbine transmission

You can do it on the way to the grocery store

Would we drive a Buick with a Super Turbine transmission? You bet.

Obviously you aren't planning to drive 3,243 miles to prove your new Buick is economical. And you can't expect to get as many miles per gallon as the experts in the Economy Run. Still, it is nice to know you can win the economy run around town.

Of course, and just in case anyone failed to get the message, we did it twice again.

And won Class D and Class G. In all, Buick entered 4 classes and won 3 more than any other make of car. (Remember when people used to think Buicks used a lot of gas?) Did we make our point about the Super Buick Motor Division?

Optional at extra cost.

Rupert Will Host Statewide Junior Bowling Event

RUPERT, May 13 — The third annual Idaho State Youth Bowling association tournament will get underway Saturday at the Rupert Bowl with two of last year's team winners defending their crowns. The Y-Dell bowling team, Burley, the defending handicap champion of the junior division, and Karen Lanes, Pocatello, the team senior division champion, will attempt to retain their titles.

Altogether 43 teams from throughout Idaho have signed up for the regional tournaments held in the North, West, Magic and Eastern regions. There will be approximately 145 competitors in the singles and doubles events.

The age limit of the tourney is from 10 to 18 and will be broken down into senior, junior and prep divisions.

The tournament, sponsored by the Idaho Bowling Proprietors Association, is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Saturday and run through 7 p.m. Sunday. Clark Morris, Rupert, will manage the tournament.

The six Twin Falls teams entered in the Magic regional all qualified for the state tourney. Three placed in the senior division, two in the junior division and one in the prep division. The Twin Falls bowlers also took first place in all three divisions of the singles-and-doubles events.

McNally Gets 5-0 Shutout For Orioles

WAHINGTON, May 13 (UPI) — Dave McNally, 21-year-old left-hander, pitched a two-hitter and Boog Powell hit a three-run homer leading the Baltimore Orioles to a 5-0 victory over Chicago Tuesday night.

Chicago doubled to right in the first inning and pinch hitter Fred Valentine picked up a hit through the middle in the sixth for the only hit off McNally.

The pre-game favorite covered the fast six-furlong course in 1:11.16 with Jockey Brian Trebilcot aboard in defeating eight other 3-year-olds.

Six KO'd in Olympic Trials

OAKLAND, Calif., May 13 (UPI) — Six knockouts were registered in 16 bouts this Tuesday at the opening session of the Western Regional Olympic boxing trials at Oakland auditorium.

The boxers are competing to go to New York City May 18-20 to face elimination from seven other regions in the final trials for Tokyo to the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo.

Hill Rise Is Probable Choice For 88th Preakness Saturday

BALTIMORE, May 13 (UPI) — Hill Rise, who lost the Kentucky derby by a neck in the role of the favorite, probably will be the public's choice again Saturday when he hooks up with derby winner Northern Dancer and four other 3-year-olds in the 88th running of the Preakness at Pimlico. Horserace expressed opinion on the probable favorite Tuesday after watching the long striding colt from the El Poco ranch put in his final prep with a 1:40 1/5 clocking for a mile. He galloped out the 1 1/4 miles in 1:54 1/5.

With an exercise boy in the saddle, he romped through one-quarter mile in 24 4/5 seconds, three-eighths in 3d 4/5, a half-mile in 49 flat, five-eighths in 1:01 3/5, three-quarters in 1:14 2/5, and the seven-eighths in 1:27.

He was being waved down at the end—but still covered the final one-eighth in 1:3 1/5 seconds and returned to his stable without any signs of being put through his paces.

"It was a little faster than I had planned," said trainer Bill Finnegan, who, before the workout, had told the exercise boy to send him over the one-mile in around 1:42. "But I am satisfied. He is as fit as I can make him."

The workout compared with the rather slow 1:43 3/5 performance of Northern Dancer in his final work Monday and the eye-popping 1:39 1/2 by The Scoundrel on Sunday.

Hill Rise, who worked competitively in preparation for the Preakness field, Roman Brother and Quadrangle will be the other derby starters in the field.

They were fourth and fifth, respectively, in the classic at Louisville.

The probable field was increased by one when trainer Bernie Bond announced Tuesday that Harriet N. Ball's Big Pete would be entered in the 1 3/16-mile Preakness.

"I am not sure he belongs in the field," said Bond. "After all, he has raced only three times since being sidelined with a pastern trouble for the month.

With six starters, the second leg of the triple crown, which also includes the derby and Belmont stakes, will be worth $176,700 with $124,300 going to the winter.

Third, Fourth District Athletes Should Stage Close Race In Regional

If district times mean anything, class B athletes from the third and fourth districts should be staging the closest races of the day during the southcentral regional track and field championships. And except for the Hailey Wolverine team, the team championship might have been the team of all the others. The top three competitors in each of last week's district events are eligible for this affair with the champion and runner-up in each event advancing to the state finals in both the following week-end. The class B events will alternate with the A's in the past year.

Prudential, thanks to its weightiness, should beat Hailey, the fourth district champion and 10th regional titlist. Prudential advanced qualifying men in only four events in winning the third district crown last Saturday while Hailey drew blanks in seven. But four of Hailey's zeros came in the field events where Prudential had but one.

In only four of the running events did the two districts winning times show more than a second difference. Hailey holds a 1:36.1 to 1:37.3 edge. Prudential in the 200 relay while Prudential is 3:38.2 against 3:39.0 for Oakley in the mile relay. The others' runs in the mile and the two-mile runs.

The field events saw a two-inch difference in the broadjump, a quarter-inch in the pole vault, seven inches in the discus, six inches in the shot and the high jump had an inch difference.

The two-contenders run head-on with champion against champion in four events with Hailey holding the edge in all.

There will be five men seeking to retain titles won in this event last year. George Trenkle, Shoshone, defending state champion and still only a junior, went 154 feet to win the discus last week and that was his career best. His second best was five inches behind and two throws earlier.

Hirai, Cascade, is back in the broadjump along with the boy who seconded him last year, Mel Darrington, Declo. Gibbons, McCall, returns in both hurdles.

The fifth is quarterback John Exner, then of Hailey, now of Shoshone. But Exner returns as a second-place man in district last week-end. Hailey's Steve Blandford has whipped Exner in their last two meetings.

Exner already knows where his competition is coming from, having defeated Darrington last year. Gibbons' district winning times last week were behind those of Hailey's Jim Hawkins (15.7 in the highs) and Kimberly's Richard Cooke, who went 21.3 in the lows. But both also wore personal bests for the fourth district challengers.

The class B regional records include:

INDIANAPOLIS, May 13 (AP)— Robby Marshman drove his Hopkins Lotus-Ford around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Tuesday to an unofficial record of 178 miles per hour and said, "It's no secret we're shooting for the pole Saturday." The pole car in the 500-mile race May 30 will be the fastest qualifier in 10-mile trials Saturday.

"I feel 158 is possible under ideal conditions," the 27-year-old driver from Pottstown, Pa., said. The speedway accepts only records made in the 500-mile race and in the qualifying trials, which reduce the entries to 33 starters.

Marshman said new tires were among the things producing faster speeds this year. He also pointed out that he had 3,000 miles experience in the little rear engine car in driving engine and tire tests this spring.

A. J. Foyt, Houston, Tex., defending U. S. Auto club national champion and former winner of the 500, joined Marvin Parnell, Jones and the only three others who have ever bettered 150 miles per hour for one lap.

He had this year's best practice speed of 158.233 miles per hour until Marshman topped it Tuesday. Both Foyt and Jones drove conventional front-engine Offenhausers, with secret improvements.

Rodger Ward, Indianapolis, two-time winner of the Memorial day race, has had the fourth fastest qualifying time, 158.4 miles per hour in a new rear-engine Watson-Ford.

Eleven drivers have beaten the official record in practice, promising brisk competition in Saturday's qualifications.

CARTY HOMERS AS BRAVES

BLANK METS

NEW YORK, May 13 (UPI)— Hank Fischer pitched a three-hitter and rookie Rico Carty slugged his first major league homer as the Milwaukee Braves blanked the New York Mets 3-0 Tuesday night.

Carty connected in the fifth inning after Frank Bolling had an error on an out. Until then Fischer and the Mets' Al Jackson had matched serves with the Braves' starter rating the first batter no need.

MILWAUKEE, May 13 (UPI)— Carter takes 10-round bout.

APRIL HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 13 (UPI)— Tiger Ali Carter, boxing 100 pounds, invaded Manila, Philippines, the first of his professional career Tuesday night at Valley Garden arena.

Carter, 21, Mexican City, was going three-minute rounds for the first time as a professional. He threw all his punches in the first three rounds and Carter decided to slug to a 10-round decision.

Meet Set Cubs Defeat DODGERS 3-2 On an Error

CHICAGO, May 13 (UPI)— Dick Tracewski fumbled pitch, hitting Joey Amalfitano's grounder with the bases full and two out in the ninth inning Tuesday and the Chicago Cubs edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2. Pitcher Don Landrum scored the winning run.

Leo Burke and Jim Behringer were intentionally walked, loading the bases. Jimmy Stewart struck out, but Tracewski then fumbled the running grounder by Amalfitano, batting for Lou Brock, and Landrum, running for Bertell, scored the winning run.

LOS ANGELES, May 13 (UPI)— Southpaw John O'Donoghue weathered four errors by his teammates and limited Los Angeles to two hits before retiring for a relief pitcher Tuesday night as Kansas City defeated the Angels 6-2.

Los Angeles starter Ken McBride went down to his sixth straight defeat since winning the opening game of the season at Washington.

KANSAS CITY, May 13 (UPI)— Los Angeles' zeroes came in the field events where Prudential had but one.

In only four of the running events did the two districts winning times show more than a second difference. Hailey holds 1:36.1 to 1:37.3 edge. Prudential in the 200 relay while Prudential is 3:38.2 against 3:39.0 for Oakley in the mile relay. The others' runs in the mile and the two-mile runs.

The field events saw a two-inch difference in the broadjump, a quarter-inch in the pole vault, seven inches in the discus, six inches in the shot and the high jump had an inch difference.

The two-contenders run head-on with champion against champion in four events with Hailey holding the edge in all.

There will be five men seeking to retain titles won in this event last year. George Trenkle, Shoshone, defending state champion and still only a junior, went 154 feet to win the discus last week and that was his career best. His second best was five inches behind and two throws earlier.

Hirai, Cascade, is back in the broadjump along with the boy who seconded him last year, Mel Darrington, Declo. Gibbons, McCall, returns in both hurdles.

The fifth is quarterback John Exner, then of Hailey, now of Shoshone. But Exner returns as a second-place man in district last week-end. Hailey's Steve Blandford has whipped Exner in their last two meetings.

Exner already knows where his competition is coming from, having defeated Darrington last year. Gibbons' district winning times last week were behind those of Hailey's Jim Hawkins (15.7 in the highs) and Kimberly's Richard Cooke, who went 21.3 in the lows. But both also wore personal bests for the fourth district challengers.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 13 (UPI)— Robby Marshman drove his Hopkins Lotus-Ford around the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Tuesday to an unofficial record of 178 miles per hour and said, "It's no secret we're shooting for the pole Saturday." The pole car in the 500-mile race May 30 will be the fastest qualifier in 10-mile trials Saturday.

"I feel 158 is possible under ideal conditions," the 27-year-old driver from Pottstown, Pa., said. The speedway accepts only records made in the 500-mile race and in the qualifying trials, which reduce the entries to 33 starters.

Marshman said new tires were among the things producing faster speeds this year. He also pointed out that he had 3,000 miles experience in the little rear engine car in driving engine and tire tests this spring.

A. J. Foyt, Houston, Tex., defending U. S. Auto club national champion and former winner of the 500, joined Marvin Parnell, Jones and the only three others who have ever bettered 150 miles per hour for one lap.

He had this year's best practice speed of 158.233 miles per hour until Marshman topped it Tuesday. Both Foyt and Jones drove conventional front-engine Offenhausers, with secret improvements.

Rodger Ward, Indianapolis, two-time winner of the Memorial day race, has had the fourth fastest qualifying time, 158.4 miles per hour in a new rear-engine Watson-Ford.

Eleven drivers have beaten the official record in practice, promising brisk competition in Saturday's qualifications.

Tigers Down Yanks 7-2 to Snap Streak

DETROIT, May 13 (UPI)— Left-hander Mickey Lolich threw a three-hitter and shaped New York's five-game winning streak as the Detroit Tigers downed the Yankees 7-2 Tuesday night.

The Tigers, who had lost five in a row, made the most of eight hits and capitalized on five early home walks. Four of the runners who reached that on walks scored.

Needlework Contest Rules Listed

BISHOP, May 13 — Residents of the Lincoln County area may participate in the National Wool needlework contest for 1964, concerning their "Home" in the Lincoln County fair to be held Aug. 6-8.

The contest is open to all non-professional needleworkers and will offer a grand national prize of $1,000 cash plus a trip to New York and a three-day stay for two, as well as special engraved trophy. Additional cash awards and ribbons will also be made to national winners other than the grand national champion.

Contestants entering here must win at the county fair before being eligible to enter the national judging, which is to be held in New York late in 1964.

The blue ribbon award at the fair will be made in six different categories, three each from knitters and crocheters with an engraved trophy awarded to the entry selected from all six first place winners in each of the categories.

The first place winners selected by the fair will then be supplied by the National Hand Knitting Yarn Association with complete information and official forms for entering their winning designs in the national finals.

All articles submitted for judging in this contest must be knitted or crocheted of 100 per cent wool or mohair—yarn. Entries must have been completed since Jan. 1, and each entry must carry one label of yarn used. Contestants are permitted to submit as many entries as desired in any of the categories.

These categories, for both knitting and crocheting, include afghans, sweaters and three-piece sets.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Joyce Bernard, fair secretary, at the county agent's office, telephone 456-3063.

Youngsters Have Shoshone Party

SMOKOKE, May 13 — A team of Mrs. Jessie Danier's kindergartners will hold a May day party Friday afternoon.

All mothers of students attended and work of children was displayed.

Plate plagues and vases made by the children were Mother's day gifts to the guests.

Plans were made for year-end activities. A train ride will be taken with Mrs. Paul Jacobson in charge of arrangements.

Visits will be made to the Beaumont Company in Garding, Ida-Ore. Dyantron association is Jerome and the Journal office. Mrs. G. L. Quinn is arranging the visits.

School will close the last week in May.

H. CURTIN WESTFALL
will deliver the baccalaureate address entitled, "Where . . . Now?" at Valley high school at 8 p.m. Sunday. Westfall is a member of the faculty of the College of Idaho, Caldwell.

Speaker for Valley Rites Announced

EDEN-HAZELTON, May 13 — Baccalaureate speaker for the Valley class of 1964 will be H. Curtis Westfall, of the administration department of the College of Idaho, Caldwell.

Westfall holds a bachelor of arts degree, a bachelor of divinity degree, and an honorary doctor of laws degree. He is a citizen of Idaho, a graduate of the college, and is a well-known speaker in the area.

Baccalaureate services will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at Valley high school. Commencement will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday for the 62 Valley graduates.

These categories, for both knitting and crocheting, include afghans, sweaters and three-piece sets.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Joyce Bernard, fair secretary, at the county agent's office, telephone 456-3063.

Mrs. Kennedy to Attend Rally for Son's Library

CHAPEL HILL, N.C., May 13 — Mrs. Rose Kennedy, mother of the late President Kennedy, will attend a rally at the University of North Carolina Sunday to accept contributions from North Carolinians to the John F. Kennedy memorial library.

Gov. Terry Sanford announced Tuesday that Mrs. Kennedy would attend the ceremony, at which evangelist Billy Graham and Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges will speak.

Plates and vases made by the children were Mother's day gifts to the guests.

Plans were made for year-end activities. A train ride will be taken with Mrs. Paul Jacobson in charge of arrangements.

Visits will be made to the Beaumont Company in Garding, Ida-Ore. Dyantron association is Jerome and the Journal office. Mrs. G. L. Quinn is arranging the visits.

School will close the last week in May.

Castleford Man Hurt in Mishap

BUHL, May 13—Robert Sample, 19, Castleford, was to be dismissed this afternoon from Magic Valley Memorial hospital after being treated for injuries he received in a one-car accident at 10:15 p.m. Sunday, two miles south of Castleford on a county road.

Sample was a passenger in a 1957 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by Kenneth R. Black, 19, Roserson. The Black youth lost control of the truck when he swerved to avoid striking a hole in the road.

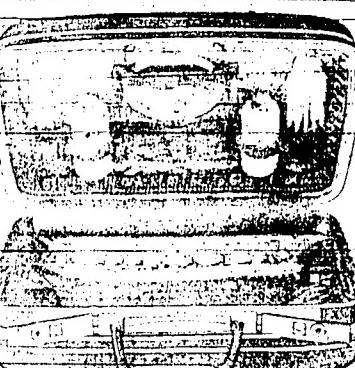

The truck ran off the shoulder of the highway and overturned on its top. Black escaped injury and Sample was reported in good condition.

Damage was estimated at $300 to the truck. State and county officers investigated.

Commerce With Russ Lauded, Scorned

UNLOADING TOWERS at the port of Odessa suck up wheat from the holds of the American grain ship Exlona. Controversy concerning the wisdom of selling grain to Russia is still being debated.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Nicolai Leonidov, founder of Russia's communist state and who had a fine sense of humor, once said that "if you give a capitalist enough rope he will eventually hang himself." He was, of course, quoting Karl Marx's famous assertion: "capitalism dig its own grave."

Are American businessmen, like Britain, France and West Germany, ever to fulfill the Marxist-Leninist prediction?

The recent decision by the United States Chamber of Commerce to seek increased trade with the Reds warrants examination in the present state of international affairs. It strengthens the communists' currently in the midst of a grave economic and political crisis. It undermines the American economic embargo against Fidel Castro's Cuba. Lenin and Marx were convinced that the capitalists' urge for profit was far stronger than their attachment to principles. They saw this as the fatal weakness of democratic society based on the free enterprise system.

While Khrushchev is far less cultured than Marx and Lenin were, he is merely echoing the words of his masters when he warns the West: "We will burn you!"

Two major reasons seem to underline the Chamber of Commerce's major policy reversal on East-West trade in nonstrategic goods:

One is fear—by no means unfounded—that the NATO allies are out to capture the "lucrative" markets in the Soviet bloc.

Like Sen. William Fulbright, some American businessmen consider the U.S. export embargo against the Reds a total failure. In their view, it has not served to deprive the Red countries of goods, but to divert business to Western European suppliers.

Another reason is that trade with the Reds is likely to help Russia against Red China and lead to a relaxation in East-West tensions. This is also the view of President Johnson's administration. It is backed, among others, by Britain's Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, who believes that a "fat communist" is likely to be less dangerous than a "lean" one.

But the fact is that the communist leaders are Marxist-Leninist dialecticians. This means that they resort to different strategy at different times. They speak softly and cry for more trade with the capitalist West when they are in trouble.

This was their strategy in the fateful years in the 1930s and 1930s. They used it again after Hitler attacked Russia.

However, the Reds invariably gave the capitalists the boot after they regained their strength and felt powerful enough to subvert the free world.

Man Gained Favors by Aiding Nazis

FRANKFURT, Germany, May 13 (UPI)—A former inmate of the Nazi's Auschwitz death camp has testified that trial defendant Emil Bednarek beat sick and helpless prisoners to death, stopped to pray and then returned to kill again.

The witness, Leon Czakalski of Poland, also said he saw Bednarek apologize to a Roman Catholic priest he had beaten.

Bednarek, a 55-year-old inmate who helped Nazi guards for favors, and 21 Gestapo officials are on trial here on charges of taking part in the killing of up to four million persons at the notorious death camp in occupied Poland during World War II.

"He was a man with a weak character," Czakalski said of Bednarek. "The Nazi SS taught him how to murder. If someone reported sick or if the person was a walking skeleton, Bednarek made him squat and hold a stool straight out in front.

"If he fell, Bednarek beat him to death with the stool, or sometimes with a club . . . Then he would go to his room and pray and then he'd come out and do it again."

Czakalski said he saw Bednarek "kill 10 or 12 persons that way."

He also testified he saw Bednarek beat a man with a club 25 times before discovering the prisoner was a Roman Catholic clergyman and "then Bednarek apologized to the priest."

Bednarek blinked and nodded his head in agreement and grinned slightly, apparently welcoming testimony showing he was kindly to a priest he had killed.

But the defendant, when asked by the court if he had any comment, rose, shook his head and said "Nein."

Czakalski, who was an inmate-barber at the camp, also told of watching two other defendants hang 12 men while drunk. He said Oswald Kaduk and Wilhelm Boger forced another inmate to drop the nooses around the doomed men outside the camp kitchen.

Boger blinked and nodded.

To date there is 71.8 feet gauge

Then Boger and Kaduk "kicked off the chairs from under the victim's feet," he said. He said both Nazi guards were drunk.

Snow Survey Completed in Oakley Area

OAKLEY, May 13—Snow surveys by the soil conservation service have been completed for the past month according to J. J. McLaws, SCS snow surveyor.

With the assistance of the forest service, snow measurements were made by Sno-Cat and five courses were read by airplane contracted by the service from Pocatello.

This year the bestsite measurement read 37 inches of snow compared with 11 inches a year ago. Clear-Creek meadows read 60 inches, the same as last year while the V-Point station read 27 inches, 21 inches last year.

The Roy Scout station reading was 32 inches for 1964 with 21 inches last year. But Badger Creek reading was 32 inches compared with 10 inches last year.

Water runoff here was recorded at 12 inches against three inches for 1963. Howel canyon measurements recorded 68 inches with a water content of 39 inches compared to 44 inches and 21 inches water content in 1963. Creeks were reported running clear, and there are still large wet snow drifts in several areas.

Canal company officials report that although there is considerable amount of snow this year the runoff did not come as predicted.

So far there is 71.8 feet gauge height or 20,332 acre feet compared with 75.1 feet gauge height or 23,100 acre feet for 1963. The inflow in 1963 was 69.1 second feet compared with 160.3 second feet this year.

GARY ISOM
son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Isom, Filer, has received the President's Gold Medal scholarship from the Idaho State Pharmaceutical Association. He will receive $500 yearly for a period of five years at Idaho State university. Filer is salutatorian of the Filer senior class, class president, member of the National Honor society and president of the Key club.

Lodge Will Surprise Pollmen If He Doesn't Take Oregon

By BRUCE BISHOP

PORTLAND, Ore., May 13 (NEA)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, a surprise winner in New Hampshire in March, will surprise most poll-takers and political observers if he does not win the Oregon primary on Friday.

Latest polls show him holding a sizable lead over the five other entries: New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, Richard M. Nixon, Gov. William G. Stratton of Pennsylvania, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Little sign exists that enthusiasm for Lodge is high. As in New Hampshire, Oregon appears to be conducting a "disastrous sweepstakes." Lodge, say many men, is a "place for voters to hang their hats" in their evident mood of disenchantment with avowed candidates Goldwater and Rockefeller. Says a high placed Republican:

"Before Lodge won the New Hampshire primary, there wasn't enough sentiment for him in Oregon to put in your eye. Some appraisers feel, however, that a belated but earnest and well-sponsored effort for Nixon may also deep into Lodge's shallow-rooted support."

"Whatever Nixon does cause off Lodge's nose," is how one veteran political leader views it. And poll gains show by Rockefeller are seen as further reducing whatever edge Lodge may enjoy as the campaign moves toward a sputtering climax.

Goldwater, once a commanding front runner in Oregon, is now given only an outside chance to win. A widely-split moderate vote among the others perhaps has only hope.

No one expects either Senator of Mrs. Smith to run up many votes at all.

Judgments vary as to the impact of the Oregon result. All have noted that national Republicans picture and on the June 2 Goldwater-Rockefeller battle in neighboring California.

Some politicians feel that any new lead for Goldwater is bound to be damaging, even if it places a healthy second. Others think the hurt will be severe only if he falls to third or fourth.

In the latter event, the notion is that California voters may be markedly affected and may swing behind Rockefeller.

Oregon appraisers think Goldwater's decision to stop campaigning in Oregon did his cause no good. "He's chalked off this state," is the common view.

Leaders think Goldwater is attempting to discredit a possible default by documenting cases he "really didn't try" for Oregon's 18 convention votes.

Despite all this talk, Goldwater men in the state insist they may pull off a surprise victory. They boast they have more dedicated troops than any other.

Yet, the judgment of veteran Oregonians is that the Goldwater forces are poorly organized, that they never recovered from the bad start they made months ago.

The Lodge campaign, by contrast, moves at hard pace—much the same pattern as was employed by his volunteers in New Hampshire.

Led by young lawyer David Goldberg, one of the "Boston boys" who produced the "New Hampshire" result, the Lodge campaigners are busily totting up "I'll Vote For Lodge" pledges drawn in through a state-wide mailing—and canvassing door-to-door with the aid of "mechanized teams" using borrowed cars.

With the voting deadline not far off, more than 22,000 pledges have come in by mail—roughly eight per cent of those solicited. This surpasses a similar effort in New Hampshire.

There will be further appeals to the "pledgees" in the last days and hours.

The Nixon people, cranking up late, labored in cramped headspace, little time and limited literature left over from the 1960 presidential campaign. Buttons and bumper stickers have to be rationed.

The rationale of the Nixon effort is simple: "This is Nixon country," says a faithful backer. "We felt Lodge was getting it by default, moving into a vacuum which we could fill better than he."

There is more to it than that. Nixon still runs well in national polls. But there is concern among his followers that his chances will be injured if he cannot demonstrate that he still can translate poll percentages into actual votes.

Rockefeller stands before Oregon voters in the closing days as "the only active candidate" in the campaign of the state.

A good many observers think the governor's determined personal canvass of the state is paying off. Polls show some increase but still leave him far behind Lodge.

He often draws well as he romps about the state in his standard free-wheeling style. On a recent circuit through southern Oregon (starting from Goldwater cancellations), Rockey seemed in high gear.

At Albany in the rich Willamette river valley, he suddenly found himself surrounded by some red-coated citizens calling themselves the "Albany Woodpeckers." Then a promoter for a timber carnival clapped a red felt hat on Rockefeller's head. He grinned and said:

"Thanks very much, distinguished woodpeckers and woodpeckers, I'll take it back to Hap- py. She'll be impressed."

The telephone and mail canvassing of voters pressed by most

SHOESHINE, May 13—Student body officers for Shoeshine high school have been elected with Barbara Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hughes, as president.

Ed Kelley is vice president; Ginn Appman, secretary; Larry Haddock, treasurer; Sylvia Barraza, assistant annual editor; Barbara Thomas, mascot, and Marie Urrutia, Linda Berrochon, Gladys Haddock and Kathie Everett, cheerleaders.

Mrs. Hughes has been a leader at the school the past three years, is a straight A student, junior class representative; MYP vice president; Girls' State alternate; member of Future Business Leaders of America; Beta club; Pep club, and the student council.

candidacy here is not being overlooked by the Governor.

Team of eager young high school students camp at telephones for long hours. When they get an avowed bidder, they mark "mugel" on a card.

but the odds in the final days still suggest that on May 16, Henry Cabot Lodge may wind up with the biggest stack of nuggets.

"My wife thinks the Jaycees is probably the finest organization in the world," he said.

Union Pacific Holds Annual Stockholders' Meet in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, May 13 (UPI)—Union Pacific railroad company earned $84 million dollars in net operating revenues of $19 million during the past year, the company's stockholders were told Tuesday.

The railroad held its annual stockholders' meeting here.

The U. P. annual report showed that the net adjusted income equaled $2.90 per share of common stock. The directors declared a $1.50 dividend for the railroad's 90,119 stockholders.

The report showed that Union Pacific—which was the nation's first land grant railroad—delivered 44 percent of its income from oil holdings.

Net income from oil and gas holdings in 1963 was declared as $21,542,808. Net income from transportation operations was $41,111,725.

The annual report notes that the railroad sold its interest in the Rangeley, Colo., oil field last September for $2.2 million. This accounts for a decrease from 23.8 million in oil and gas income realized in 1962.

Union Pacific still has wells at Wilmingon, Calif.; East Los Angeles; Patrick Draw, Wyo.; West Denver Springs, Wyo.; and Price, Colo., among the principal oil fields.

Stinnett Chemical company, which the railroad owns 40 per cent, will double its production of soda ash later this year, when a second plant goes into operation.

Fluorspar deposits on company land in California, Nevada, Idaho and Montana, were cited as a source of income to the U. P. year.

The report notes that only two things stand in the way of the proposed merger of Union Pacific and the Rock Island railroad—approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission and approval by the Rock Island stockholders.

A meeting of the stockholders for that purpose has been scheduled for July 1.

As to labor disputes, the U. P. said that the ruling of a federal arbitration board, supported by the court of appeals, was effective May 7, with the beginning of the elimination of fires through "natural attrition."

Swimming

About 400 children have registered for the swimming program sponsored by the Twin Falls parks and recreation department. Registration deadline is May 15.

Youngsters may be lined up for the program at Lamont park recreation building from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Clad Brownie, park and recreation director, said registration must be made in person, and not by telephone.

Sellers and Wife Sued By Company

LOS ANGELES, May 13 (UPI) — Actor Peter Sellers and his wife, Britt Ekland, have sued them by Twentieth Century Fox for more than twice as much.

Fox sued Miss Ekland for alleged breach of contract and Sellers for allegedly inducing the breach. The studio complained that she refused to continue her role in the film, "Gua of Death."

Sellers and his wife filed a cross-complaint Monday asking for $3 million dollars damages and an additional $2 million in punitive damages on the grounds that Fox's suit constituted malicious prosecution and abuse of legal process.

Sellers also said he suffered damage to his health and reputation as a result of Fox's suit.

The Democrats will hold their state assembly here and the Republicans will meet in Idaho Falls.

Colorado Water Board Will Meet to Study Udall Order

DENVER, May 13 (UPI) — The Colorado water conservation board will meet today to study Interior Secretary Stewart Udall's order Monday closing the gates at Glen Canyon dam.

Of particular concern was possible liability of Upper Basin states in the event generation of hydroelectric power at Hoover dam downstream was reduced because of a shortage of water.

A "summarized" meeting by the Upper Colorado river basin commission was scheduled at Denver May 20.

Udall's order made most water and state officials happy in Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Utah. But it was greeted with criticism by Arizona and others in the Lower Basin.

Udall ordered Glen Canyon's gates opened in March to maintain the 145 million acre-foot power head behind Hoover dam in Lake Mead downstream on the Colorado river.

Gov. John Love heralded the closing of the gates, but said it would be wrong for the Upper Colorado river basin fund to be charged for any loss of revenue at downstream Hoover dam.

Udall said any such loss would be charged to the Upper Basin fund. A loss of revenue could result at Hoover dam if insufficient water is stored in Lake Mead behind the dam to meet power generation commitment.

Love said such a move would be unfair because the Upper Basin states had met their requirements under the Colorado river compact, which requires that the Upper Basin deliver 75 million acre-feet of water to the lower basin during each 10-year period.

Rep. Wayne Aspinall, D., Colo., chairman of the house interior committee, said he was not satisfied with Udall's decision, but that as the situation stands, he could not complain. He said the interior department should have started conserving water years ago to fill Lake Powell.

Rep. Gordon Allott, R., Colo.,

said the second agreement with Red China, Canada has now sold about 77.4 million bushels.

Udall said the decision might result in "potentia court action" if the Upper Basin was made to pay for possible power shortages at Hoover dam.

Edwin C. Johnson, former Colorado governor and U.S. senator and Colorado's representative on the Upper Colorado river commission, said the issue was very much with Udall's order to close the gates.

Johnson called Udall stupid last month for opening the gates.

Felix L. Sparks, director of the Colorado water conservation board and chairman of the Upper Basin commission, said both bodies would be asked to endorse legislation to be sent to congress in the next two weeks. The legislation would replace the Upper Basin fund from financial responsibility for replacement of any power loss at Hoover dam.

Red Wheat

OTTAWA, May 13 (UPI) — Canada has sold another 42 million bushels of wheat to Communist China — Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp announced.

Sharp told the house of commons the Canadian wheat board in Winnipeg was announcing the sale Monday afternoon under the second long-term wheat sales agreement Canada has entered into with the communist country.

The sale would be worth more than $4 million dollars he said.

With the second agreement with Red China, Canada has now sold about 77.4 million bushels.

Sharp said he is in agreement with such a plan.

The governor said there still is no indication when the committee will have its proposal in form for submission to members of the legislature. That resolution will determine whether Symple will call a special session to consider the plan.

"It seems to me," Symple said of members of the drafting committee, "that they have reached agreement on the major points. They are getting closer to being ready to report to the full group."

Symple has suggested creation of a state agency which would have power to plan, finance, construct and operate water projects. He has proposed that such a program be coordinated with efforts of the federal government and private organizations.

The governor has suggested use of revenue bonds, repaid from

Idahoans May Decide on Water Plan

BUEHL, May 13 — An attempt to throw a full bottle of beer from a moving car causing an accident and was reported at Buehl city police Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bybee, Buehl, were returning from Twin Falls to Buehl about 10 p.m. Saturday when a car traveling the opposite direction, carrying three or four youths, rolled out a window and threw a full bottle of beer at Bybee's pickup.

The impact broke the window and the Bybees' car escaped being cut by flying glass. In addition to almost having an accident, Bybee said the youths appeared to be drinking and were throwing the bottle at his truck. Police officials investigating the incident earnings of the project, is name the program.

If legislative reaction is as indicated, two-thirds favor Symple's plan, Symple says he will call a special session this summer.

In this way constitution amendments required could placed on the ballot in November's election.

If the proposal were left the regular 1965 session, amements could not be voted on.
